

Independent Baseball Teams Start Twilight Campaign Tonight With Many Games Scheduled

THIS IS OPENING DAY FOR TWILIGHT GAMES

Lew Tendler Will Throw Out First Ball at First Home Contest of the Sphas

MANY OTHER GAMES

DAYLIGHT saving went into effect in these surroundings yesterday, and with the advent of an additional hour for recreation, the days of twilight baseball are at hand. The season will be ushered in this evening with games in many sections of the city.

Twilight baseball has grown and developed into a big sport proposition. With the advent of the Philadelphia Baseball Association, its prospects are even brighter, and the fans have come to realize that their favorite neighborhood club is now a community asset. It brings to the very doorstep of the citizen and offers an opportunity to witness the great national pastime under ideal conditions, and there is no doubt but that the game will be played better than ever before.

Many of the troubles have been corrected. Two of these were the umpires, regarded as homers even though they were the best in the world, and the "ramp" athlete. The players who have their name on a half-dozen rosters are not seen in this locality, for those days are past and the umpires are now appointed. The manager of the home team has as much idea as the humblest fan regarding who is to officiate before the game.

his headquarters. In "Lefty" Winters he has one of the best pitchers in the game.

Up at Tenth and Butler streets another opening will be held. Ed Wise will show the fans in that neighborhood his new Nicetown team. The team lost its opener on Saturday with Ford Kennedy, but Wise expects to make a better showing at home.

They draw one of the best clubs in the State when they oppose American Chain. This team has one of the strongest schedules and has many big league games booked on their home grounds at York.

Other Contests Carded

Other big teams of the Philadelphia association will be in action. The North Phils entertain Chester at Fourth and Wingo streets. Ray Steininger will scale the mound and will be opposed to Riley or Agnew. Despite the fact that Chester was walloped by Hilldale, the Millerites are to be feared with their big-league line-up. It was eight errors that beat them on Saturday.

Two games are to be played in West Philadelphia. Donovan - Armstrong takes on Bridesburg at Forty-eighth and Walnut and "Lefty" Gullman, formerly of the Athletics, will oppose "Lefty" Stelly. At the Mackey grounds at Forty-ninth and Spruce the home team opposes Plesher Yarn. Tom Walker has elected McKenty for mound duty, while Pat O'Brien will give Jack Reynolds or Buck Ewen a chance to show their worth.

Jack Hines, of the Old Timers, will take his proteges to the home of the Forty-eighth Ward, at Twenty-fifth street and Snyder avenue, and oppose Ed Graham's combination. Reed will pitch for the Old Timers, while the Warders are undecided as to who will hurl.

Philly Cockrell has been nominated to hurl for Hilldale, and Rube Chambers or Lefty Vann will be the selection of Manager Gottlieb. The Sphas have a number of new faces to introduce to home fans. There is Dave Harol on third, Eddie Farrell at second and Chickie Passon "back home" covering first. The Sphas have one of the best infields of any of the local teams.

Another downtown opening is scheduled as a double-header starting at 3 P. M. at Broad and Bigler streets, where the Philadelphia Royal Giants make their home. Chappie Johnson's aggregation of stars will cross bats with the South Phils in a twin bill. Chappie had the Norfolk Stars last year, but this season decided to make Philadelphia

ONE LOST—THE OTHER WON

Amateur baseball in West Philadelphia got a wonderful start on Saturday afternoon. There were several openings. One of them was the first game on the Harry A. Mackey grounds at Forty-ninth and Spruce streets, when the home team was defeated by the South Philadelphia Hebrews. At the right is the winning tosser, the well-known Leslie Kropps. Chief Hart did mound duty for the Mackey team

CLEANINGS OF THE INDEPENDENTS

THE baseball season among the independents in Philadelphia is on full swing, and in the course of the next two weeks a dozen little leagues will get into action and the layout will be complete.

An idea of the number of persons at Saturday's games is furnished by Larry Sommer, secretary of the Philadelphia Baseball Association, who is authorized for the statement that close to 42,000 persons saw ten games of that organization, the largest turnout being at Darby, where Hilldale opposed Chester.

In some instances the crowds numbered 5000, but the average was a trifle over the 3000 mark, and there were six of the contests where the attendance did not vary a hundred.

The fans all witnessed well-played contests and in only several instances were the results one-sided.

"Boss" McConnell started his career as a manager in the right direction when he pitched Donovan-Armstrong to a 10-to-3 victory over Glenmore. The feature was the batting of McConnell, the former Athletic player, who had three hits, one of which was a homer.

His off to Bill Whitman. The new leader of Bridesburg proved the walloping handed Plesher last Sunday was no fluke, when the outpourers cleaned up for Philadelphia. Costello was in rare form and allowed the railroaders but six hits, all in the first two innings.

The Borg boys went back at the Railroaders at Pottstown yesterday and chased Lefty David off the hill and won, 7 to 3. May Koppen had the home team at the railroaders but six hits, all in the first two innings.

Plesher Yarners split even over the weekend. They inaugurated the season by trimming Hilldale last Sunday was no fluke, when the outpourers cleaned up for Philadelphia. Costello was in rare form and allowed the railroaders but six hits, all in the first two innings.

Johnny Castle, another ex-league signaled his debut as head of the Shamrock Club with a victory. The home team of the Garter Club of Parkland, which had been quite a cover-up on the field. But A. Mene, one of Castle's pitching staff, yesterday, 4 to 1, when Bill Barrett, of the A's, held them to eight hits and proved the big noise in the conflict by his heavy hitting.

triumph over 1st Brothers, Barney Blaugher has a pitcher named Champion, but names don't count for anything, which was soon discovered by the disappointed on-site hurler. But the pitcher was not alone to blame. All told, the department stores have made eight errors, and this was enough to wreck any pitcher.

Jack Mars and his Marshall E. Smith went down to a 18-to-7 defeat at Hestonhurst, pitcher Gray was pulled for nineteen hits by Stonehurst, who scored in every inning but the first and second.

Doug Sheffer was panned out of the box in his first game for Logan, when the Germantown team collected for nineteen runs in the fifth inning. Manager Bando then sent in Foster, who held the Collieries safe and Logan finally managed to win, 11 to 10.

85,000 TO GO IN BOY-DAY

"GO" ATLANTIC knows that word!

"Go" in gasoline demands not only volatility, but stability—not only the quality for action, but the quality for power as well—not only the capacity to ignite quickly, but also the stamina to "follow through" on each drive of the piston.

Atlantic is that kind of a gasoline. It is full of snap and quickness, but it is also full of vigor and punch. It is a balanced gasoline—a scientific combination of the lighter or more volatile elements needed for easy starting and sure combustion, and the heavier calorific fractions required for high expansive force.

Atlantic needs no coaxing when starting the motor. It needs no urging at the getaway. It asks no frequent gear-shifting help on the hills. And speed! "Hit sixty" or more, if you like, and the peppery "zing" will tell you that Atlantic can keep up with the fastest running motor ever built!

All of which proves that Atlantic is not simply "good" gasoline, but RIGHT gasoline. It has range. It functions perfectly at every speed and temperature and under every load. It isn't wasted under one operating condition and power-skipped under another. Atlantic is correct for present-day motors. And it is always correct—consistently uniform, no matter where or when you buy it.

"There's an Atlantic Pump on the road you are traveling"

The O'Sullivan Heel Company
151 Hudson Street, New York, N.Y.

Gentlemen:

I am a long Island commuter who recently had an interesting proof of the protection that your heels give.

Running for my train on a frosty morning, I clamped both hands over my ears to keep them warm. To my great surprise, I found I could hear as well as feel the jar of each step—a peculiar dull thud unlike any other sound.

The next day was just as cold and I put my hands over my ears again. But this time I happened to be wearing shoes which the repairman had equipped with rubber heels. There was no jar!

It convinced me. From now on, rubber heels are going to be on every pair of shoes I own.

Sincerely yours,
John J. Stimp

THIS letter from a well-known New York business man tells its own story.

The price of O'Sullivan's Safety Cushion Heels to you is generally the same as the price of other heels, in spite of the fact that O'Sullivan's cost the dealer more. Your repairman could make a bigger immediate profit on any one of half a dozen substitutes—but when he puts on O'Sullivan's, he knows you'll bring trade to him again.

Ask for O'Sullivan's when you leave your shoes—see that they are attached. The O'Sullivan Heel Company.
